SNA-NC advocates for student success by leading the school nutrition profession.

April 6, 2009

The Marketing Committee of the School Nutrition Association of North Carolina (SNA-NC) would like to request your assistance in a project to promote North Carolina School meals. We are asking any celebrities, athletes, or people of note to kindly donate their time for the purpose of making a poster with their picture that will help promote North Carolina School meals.

The Project is called School Lunch! Get Some! This would involve the personality lending themselves for the purpose of taking their picture holding a school lunch tray. Those posters would be provided to the schools for their lunch room cafeterias.

The North Carolina Child Nutrition program needs to increase children's participation in school lunch and breakfast. This program depends on child participation in order to continue receiving federal funds that support the program.

The School Nutrition Association of North Carolina is a non-profit enterprise. The celebrity would be providing their time and picture free of charge.
